Col. Sibley Says There Was No Neutrality Violation.

SUBMITS OFFICIAL REPORT

Complaints Made by Mexico Not Justified by Facts as Furnished War Department.

The official report ordered from Col. Sibley, commanding the Department of Mexican government that the neutrality of the United States had been violated in the battles of Agua Prieta was received by the War Department today. The report was immediately PRESIDENT TAFT GRATIFIED laid before the President and Secretary of State Knox to form in large measure the basis of this government's re-

Sibley declares, maintain that "no shots were fired at any time from the American side of the line into Mexico." Replying to the charge from the Mexican government that Lieut. Troncoso of the Mexican federal army had been wounded by a shot fired from the American custom house. Col. Sibley says the officer was shot by insurgents on Mexican territory.

Has Changed His Mind.

While endeavoring to escape with other dederal soldiers to the American side, Lieut. Troncoso sought shelter in a depression near a small Mexican guardhouse about twenty-five yards from the international line and about 300 yards east of the American custom house. While this officer at first thought he had been attacked from the American side, Col. Sibley says, "he is now convinced the shot came from insurrectos at Agua

Neutrals in Danger.

The American officer had been informed anxious to stop the injury to American rectos citizens on this side of the line by the projectiles which were flying across from the contestants.

Col. Sibley then relates the dents of surrender, his report being confirmatory of dispatches. Col. Sibley's report intimates that the report of the Mexican consul to his government contained inaccuracies, due to its being made prematurely.
